Let Technology Take Care of the Paperwork

As a mortgage or title company, you feel relentless pressure to continually improve the speed, efficiency and convenience of your client service. At the same time, you're handling huge volumes of documents that can total up to a millions of pages a year. And, you're compelled to keep accurate, legally acceptable records for years to comply with government laws and regulations. Yet the laborious process of handling all these paper documents slows down the entire mortgage process, undermining your efficiency and profits. You also have to hire full or part-time people to process all of this information. Finally, you need copiers and fax machines to duplicate and distribute original documents. All this adds to your costs and shrinks your profits. From a customer service perspective, you certainly don't want to keep your clients waiting impatiently on the phone while you sift through large volumes of information — or, even worse, play the frustrating game of phone tag. Now there's a much more affordable, efficient and intelligent way to manage your loan documents: Express Digital Solutions.

User Friendly Electronic Filing System

Express Digital Solutions is an electronic filing system that dramatically increases the efficiency of your workplace. It's an easy to learn and use solution that scans, stores and retrieves your paper documents with ease and simplicity. This remarkable system saves valuable space, guards against theft or damage, enables your staff to share documents simultaneously, and makes a complete back-up copy of all your paper files. And it's so easy to learn and use, many people master Express Digital Solutions in just one hour.

Safety from Disaster

Mission-critical technology assets and operations require the highest-level security features, and the Express Digital Solutions data center delivers multi-level physical security. All areas of the centers are monitored and recorded using CCTV, and all access points are controlled via biometrics. The Express Digital Solutions datacenter features 24x7 onsite technical staff that proactively monitors our technology systems. All of your documents and files are backed up to two different locations each evening. There is no additional cost for this valuable disaster recovery feature.

Irrefutable Document Integrity
